Welcome to Hazelden Betty Ford's Family and Children's Services

When substance use disorder takes hold of someone you love, everyone in your family is affected. This uniquely designed program, offered through a special partnership just for AAG families, provides care and guidance to help you all heal and grow together.

Addiction Alliance of Georgia (AAG) family access coordinators are ready to help you navigate and connect your whole family with the resources and support they need.

Call 855-950-0122 or email AAGFamily@HazeldenBettyFord.org

Families of patients at the Emory Addiction Center/Addiction Alliance of Georgia will participate in Family and Children's Orientation/Education—a virtual program that covers information about the impact of mental health and the disease of addiction on families.

In addition, each family will have access to:

- A dedicated Hazelden Betty Ford Family Access Coordinator (FAC) to provide essential case management and care navigation services for the family journey
- The Hazelden Betty Ford Healthy Relationship Workshop series—four 90-minute virtual workshops
- Up to six one-on-one Family Coaching sessions

Family and Children's Orientation/Education—Virtual

Education and support for your family regardless of whether your loved one is in active addiction, seeking treatment or in recovery. Offered multiple times weekly.

Healthy Relationships Workshop—Virtual

This skill-building workshop helps family members learn how to set healthy boundaries, communicate effectively, clarify roles and support their loved one in recovery.

Family Coaching—Phone and Virtual

Coaching is designed to help your family members repair relationships, rebuild trust and strengthen self-care skills. Your family will work virtually with coaches to address well-being needs.

Family Support Group—Virtual

Sixty-minute group sessions are offered weekly, featuring a rotating series of family-focused topics and addiction/recovery-related discussions facilitated by AAG team members.

Together App—Virtual

Get connected and stay connected with an app designed to inform, inspire and support the healing journey for families of patients at Hazelden Betty Ford.

Additional support services beyond those included for families, children, and teens are available through Hazelden Betty Ford.
